The electric line to be known as the Chicago & Wisconsin Valley railroad, is a sure thing now. Work has begun at Portage and there is now not the least bit of doubt that it will be built. The following is an article taken from the Portage Democrat concerning the road:

"The engineers for the Chicago & Wisconsin Valley railroad commenced operations Tuesday morning locating the new line of railroad which will put Portage on the map as a railroad and a business center."

"The engineering party is composed of R. O. Dunlap, of Chicago, chief; F. D. Matthews, of Merrill, transit man; Clark, leveling; Schneider, Howard, Thom, Kimball, Little and Carroll in other positions. The survey began at the south end of Portage. Mr. Dunlap, the chief of party and locating engineer, has had much experience in the business of locating railroads."

"The executive committee of the new road have been in session for three days in this city making all preliminary plans. It is there those who have been doubting as to whether this road is to be built or not, they should cease to doubt. If there have been doubting knackers they should come to know and go to locating. The road is going to be built from Janesville north to Merrill."

"The west side Ladies Aid society of the Congregational church and with Mrs. O. Deans Wednesday, Nov. 24th has been the custom for several years past to celebrate their giving day. About forty ladies, members and guests were present in spite of the inclement weather. A sumptuous, old fashioned dinner was served at two o'clock by the ladies of the society and hostesses, after the disposal of which the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. W. H. Getts. The usual devotional exercises were led by Rev. Staff, songs were sung, toll call responded to by quotations short stories were read by Mesdames Denis, Getts, Cochran and Jones, when the meeting closed for an informal social hour, free cream and cake were served at four o'clock. All were universal in reporting this one of the memorials of many such occasions at the home of Mrs. Denis."

Sudden Death of Richard Harvey
Richard R. Harvey died at his home in this city about 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening after an illness of about a year, death being caused by a stroke of apoplexy.

Mr. Harvey had been about town during the day, and while he has not been enjoying good health for some time past, he was as well as usual and nobody who saw him about the city that day would imagine that the end was so near.

Mr. Harvey had been about town during the afternoon and was in the Albert Henke's candy store about 4 o'clock to get some candy for his little boy. When he got up to leave he noted that it was hard for him to walk, and remarked about the fact, but continued on his way toward home. When on Third avenue about across from Whelan's livery stable he fell to the pavement and was unable to rise. The trouble was noticed by some men who were engaged in working on the wires nearby, and they and some others went to his assistance and he was taken to his home.

From this time on he continued to sink until the end came at about 6:30 o'clock. He was conscious for about an hour after being stricken and seemed to realize that the end was near.

Mr. Harvey had been in rather poor health during the past summer and had been under the doctor's care much of the time, but he was able to be about town and was able to work at his trade of filling whenever the mill was running, so that his friends were all the more shocked when they heard of his sudden death.

Deceased was 38 years of age, having been born in the town of Saratoga in 1871, and has lived all of his life in this locality. He was a saw filer by trade, having followed this occupation almost continuously and was employed by the Ellis Lumber company at the time of his death. He is survived by a wife and one child, a boy four years of age, who have the sympathy of all in their sad affliction.

The funeral service occurs at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the home, Rev. Wm. Rodding officiating. The Ellis, of which the deceased was a member, will have charge of the services at the grave.

Jubilee Ends Tonight.
The jubilee at the Methodist church, which have been in progress during the past three days, come to a close this evening, on which occasion there will be a banquet.

Among those who have been in attendance at the anniversary services are Dr. J. J. Tippitt of Appleton, presiding elder of this district, who spoke in the church on Sunday. W. A. Peterson, now of Milwaukee, but for several years pastor of the local church was also in attendance and took part in the services. All of the services were largely attended and the occasion is one that will long be remembered by the members of the church.

Home Talent Draws Large Crowd.
One of the largest crowds that ever assembled in Daly's Theater was there on Friday evening to witness the rendition of the Girl and the Clown, which was given under the auspices of the Federated Clubs of this city. Those who saw the Art of Life at Daly's Theater on Tuesday evening pronounced it a well acted play in every respect. While some did not care for the plot of the piece, they pronounced it a good thing just the same.

Louis Ula, who has been in the neighborhood of Radisson for some time past, finished up his work for the season and returned to his home in this city on Monday. HOME ENDORSEMENT.
Hundreds of Grand Rapids Citizens Can Testify to the Value of Doan's Kidney Pills.
—Home endorsement, the public expression of Grand Rapids people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Grand Rapids reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterances of strangers residing in faraway places. Read the following:
Thomas Burr, 429 Eighth St. N., Grand Rapids, Wis., says: "I can commend Doan's Kidney Pills with great highly as I have used them with great benefit. My kidneys became very weak and the accretions were highly colored and contained a sediment. My back ached and I cut deal and I had sharp pains through my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills were finally brought to my attention and I procured a box. They removed the pains in my back and I now feel better in every way. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other."

Tortured by Ulcers!
—Gentlemen:—For two years I suffered with Eczema of hands, feet and legs, and could not get a pair of shoes on, as my feet and legs were completely covered with ulcers. Last April I concluded to go to the hospital, and on my way fortunately met a friend who was cured by your remedy, and he urged me to go and see you, which I did. I bought one set of your remedy, which gave me instant relief, and after using five sets was completely cured. I state these facts trusting they may come under the notice of some one similarly afflicted, as from experience I know that there is no other remedy to cure this terrible disease. J. The Quaker Doctor.

—This remarkable physician, Wicconia's leading specialist in chronic diseases of men and women, nervous disorders of children and skin diseases, who visits Grand Rapids every four weeks, and who will be at the Witter House, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 10, 11, 12 in his lecture on women on diseases of children says: "Thirty years experience as a physician has convinced me that more than half the diseases, and nervous disorders of children are caused by worms of which there are more than forty known varieties in the stomach and intestines, and new ones are constantly being found. It is unfortunate that so little attention is given to this subject in Medical Schools, but it is a fact that helminthology or the study of worms is almost entirely neglected in all of them; so that the physician has nothing but his text books to guide him, and they are invariably wrong, including my own. For I have made many discoveries since this publication. As these statements may surprise you—and to show you the importance of a thorough knowledge of this subject to every physician I shall mention a few remarkable cases that illustrate my point."

Baby Has Tape Worm.

In the Rivers, a poor little baby, the child of Carl Olsenberg, a member of the Life Saving Crew, was brought to me. Doctors said it was dying of consumption, but the father said it ate as much as a grown person; this made me suspicious and a further investigation soon proved that the child had a tape worm, which was removed entire with one dose of medicine. Now listen this baby not yet two years of age, had in its inside a tape worm sixty feet long. No wonder the doctors thought it had consumption.

Said He Was Paralyzed.

In Pond du Lac, James Kable, aged 10 years was brought to me, said to have been paralyzed for five years, having entirely lost control of the bowels and the bladder, and unable to attend school on account of his affliction. I suspected something else, and a few injections brought away a mass of ascarides, very tiny worms, very irritating to the nervous system and destructive to the blood, and now you ask me what was the result, well his so called paralysis was gone, he had perfect control of himself in a week, and the boy was cured. I had another case exactly like the above in Rhineland last month.

Said He Had Cancer.

Another remarkable case was that of Charles Russell of Ashland, a newspaper man, who had suffered from pain in his stomach for twenty years, and finally was told he had cancer and must be operated on at once, but fortunately he came to me first, and I relieved him of an enormous tape worm which was the whole cause of his trouble.

Still another case is that of a girl that

Thought Had Appendicitis.

Miss Lucina Moore of Palmyra, who frequently felt a large swelling near the appendix was brought to me while in that condition, because the mother had been told she must undergo an operation. I found that upon gentle pressure, the ball-like tumor in her side immediately disappeared, and knowing that some tape worms roll themselves into a mass, like a ball, I recognized what was the trouble. Give her one dose of medicine and in less than one hour she passed a large worm, head and all complete in one piece, and lo! her appendicitis was gone. But I could fill this newspaper with my own experiences of this kind, and have the documents in proof of every one in my office. Now what do these cases show, they show just this that a great many people are being treated, and even operated on for diseases they have not got and never had.

"Leland has not wet the bed since the first treatment, and thousands of worms came away. He sleeps well and eats like a thrasher."—Mrs. E. B. Lohren, Hartford.

"My son is perfectly well. He has no more pain in his stomach and no more headaches. Your treatment was indeed wonderful and I cannot express my thanks."—Mrs. John Lochner, Marquette.

"Our boy's daily and nightly troubles are gone, he has perfect control of himself now and has gained four pounds in two weeks."

Mrs. V. Roble, Pond du Lac.

"My boy has not wet the bed since your treatment. He eats and sleeps well, and everybody notices his rosy cheeks."

Minnie Berchard, Greenleaf.

"I want to say that your treatment has entirely cured my boy. We all hope to see you here again before long; many are waiting to see you."

Mrs. A. Braggard, Medford.

No Such Star.

The following item, which is misleading, has been going the rounds of the country press, and some people who have paid but little attention to astronomy, imagine that it is genuine:

"The Star of Bethlehem may be seen by early risers now on any cloudless morning. Astronomers say that star is visible at the present time for the first time in 200 years and that it will not be coming this way again for the next 200 years and it is more than probable that most people now on earth will not be here then. The star is visible in the east every morning just at daybreak. It is very bright and can be easily distinguished."

There is no star of Bethlehem known to scientists, and the assertion that it makes its appearance once in 200 years is all a myth. We do not know whether any of our readers have been getting up early in the morning with the hope of seeing the star, but if they have, it is entirely probable that they were disappointed. It may be that those who originated the item have been looking at the planet Venus or Mars, both of which are at times quite bright. They do not make their appearance at 200 year intervals, however, and the assertion that astronomers say things about the star is not so. Astronomers say there is no such star.

May Write Small Checks.

There has been a great deal of talk of late, concerning the matter of, whether or not it is legal to issue checks for an amount less than one dollar. The educational paper, Current Events is the authority for the statement that the treasury department has ruled that persons may continue to write checks for less than one dollar.

It has been shown that the statute quoted was passed in 1900 to prevent the circulation of certain small notes as money during the Civil War. In enforcing the Federal statute this old law was included in the criminal code though in operation has become obsolete.

The working of the laws would lead one to think it applied to checks and drafts for sums less than one dollar. But a government department has announced that the law will not be so interpreted any more than it has been for the past forty-nine years.

A Policeman's Testimony.

J. N. Paterson, night policeman of Nashua, Iowa, writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and throat at least half a dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Kidney and Urinary Remedies, and I took the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world." John L. Daly and Johnson & Hill Co.

Now for the Wings.

Appletree Barnes, of Waupaca, originator and vice president of the Chicago and Wisconsin Valley Railroad Co., says that the electric line from Janesville to Merrill, via Adams county, is an assured fact, and dinged if it don't look like it all right.

Now Mr. Barnes, in his big heartedness, proposes to come to the partial rescue of some of those places that have long profited by Adams county's misfortune in not having a railroad. He would put wings on the main proposition so we, or some of us, can kind of go along together. His idea is to run a branch to the Dells, one to Grand Rapids and one east which he outlines in a communication as follows: "An auxiliary line starting from the mainline, eleven miles west of Hancock, thence east to Hancock, then northeast to Almond and on northeasterly to the south end of Long Lake, Chain o' Lakes, thence around to Camp Cleghorn, on to Grand View Hotel, taking in the Lord road, to Veterans' Home, Waupaca, Royalton, Northport, New London, Hortonville, Appleton and Manitowish, a distance of about 80 miles through one of the very best and thickest settled portions of Wisconsin, touching some of our best little cities and villages, thus making the Chain o' Lakes accessible from all points, and making a short and quick route to the capital of our state, bringing much patronage off the Illinois Central R. R. to our beautiful streams and lakes. It may not be generally understood that electric roads, if constructed up to standard style, left of rail, ballast and ties, do and can interchange freights and freight cars with steam roads. The O. W. V. R. Co. is chartered to carry freight in parcels, car lots and train loads; passengers, baggage, express and mail. The bonding company is under contract to have this road completed and in active operation before Sept. 1, 1911, and to run a sleeping coach each way every night from Merrill to Chicago, landing passengers in the morning on Fifth avenue. I am making this appeal as an opener only and desire anyone and all who are or will become interested in this suggestion to correspond with or see me personally and I will, if enthusiasm be displayed, lay this proposition before our board of directors at an early date."—Hancock News.

Hugging Social.

An exchange gives an account of hugging societies which are being organized in that vicinity. The meeting of the first one netted the church $68. It says old farmers for miles around joined and were active members. The schedule of rates are: girls under 16 years, 15 cents for a hug of ten minutes, or 10 cents for a short squeeze; girls from 16 to 20 years, 50 cents; girls from 20 to 25 years, 75 cents; school ma'ams, 40 cents; another man's wife, $1; widows, according to looks, from $3 to $10; old maids, 3 cents or two for a nickel, and no limit to time. Preschers are not charged. Editors pay in advertising, but are not allowed to participate until everybody else is through.—Osseo Recorder.

Avoid Ashes with Manure.

Farmers need to be cautioned generally against the use of wood ashes and lime with manure. The ashes and lime produce an alkaline condition, resulting in the loss of ammonia which carries off the nitrogen. This point has not been sufficiently emphasized, and many well meaning farmers have used ashes and lime with manure to disadvantage. The lime and ashes, if needed by the soil, should be put on in other years than those in which farm manure is applied.

The greatest danger from influenza is of its resulting in pneumonia. This can be obviated by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as it not only cures influenza, but counteracts any tendency of the disease towards pneumonia. Sold by all dealers.

The Quaker Doctor.

—This remarkable physician Wisconsin's leading specialist in chronic diseases of men and women, nervous disorders of children and skin diseases, who visits Grand Rapids every four weeks, and who will be at the Witter House, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 10, 11, 12 in his lecture to women on diseases of children says: "Thirty years experience as a physician has convinced me that more than half the diseases, and nervous disorders of children are caused by worms of which there are more than forty known varieties in the stomach and intestines, and few ones are constantly being found. It is unfortunate that so little attention is given to this subject in Medical Schools, but it is a fact that helminthology or the study of worms is almost entirely neglected in all of them; so that the physician has nothing but his text books to guide him, and they are invariably wrong, including my own—for I have made many discoveries since its publication. As these statements may surprise you—and to show you the importance of a thorough knowledge of this subject to every physician I shall mention a few remarkable cases that illustrate my point."

Baby Has Tape Worm.

In Two Rivers, a poor thin little baby, the child of Carl Oldenberg, a member of the Life Saving Crew, was brought to me. Doctors said it was dying of consumption, but the father said it ate as much as a grown person; this made me suspicious and a further investigation soon proved that the child had a tape worm, which was removed entire with one dose of medicine. Now listen this baby not yet two years of age, had in its inside a tape worm sixty feet long. No wonder the doctors thought it had consumption.

Said He Was Paralyzed.

In Fond du Lac, James Rable, aged 40 years was brought to me, said to have been paralyzed for five years, having entirely lost control of the bowels and the bladder, and unable to attend school on account of his affliction. I suspected something else, and a few injections brought away a mass of ascarides, very tiny worms, very irritating to the nervous system and destructive to the blood, and now you ask me what was the result, well his so called paralysis was gone, he had perfect control of himself in a week, and the boy was cured. I had another case exactly like the above in Rhinelander last month.

Said He Had Cancer.

Another remarkable case was that of Charles Russell of Ashland, a newspaper man, who had suffered from pain in his stomach for twenty years, and finally was told he had cancer and must be operated on at once, but fortunately he came to me first, and I relieved him of an enormous tape worm which was the whole cause of his trouble.

Still another case is that of a girl they

Miss Lucina Moore of Palmyra, who frequently felt a large swelling near the appendix was brought to me while in that condition, because the mother had been told she must undergo an operation. I found that upon gentle pressure, the ball-like tumor in her side immediately disappeared, and knowing that some tape worms roll themselves into a mass, like a ball, I recognized what was the trouble, gave her one dose of medicine and in less than one hour she passed a large worm, head and all complete in one piece, and lo! her appendicitis was gone. But I could fill this newspaper with my own experiences of this kind, and have the documents in proof of every one in my office. Now what do these cases show, they show just this that a great many people are being treated, and even operated on for diseases they have not got and never had.

"Leland has not wet the bed since the first treatment, and thousands of worms came away. He sleeps well and eats like a thrasher."—Mrs. E. B. Lohren, Hartford.

"My son is perfectly well. He has no more pain in his stomach and no more headaches. Your treatment was indeed wonderful and I cannot express my thanks."—Mrs. John Lochner, Marxville.

"Our boy's daily and nightly troubles are gone, he has perfect control of himself now and has gained four pounds in two weeks."

Mrs. V. Roble, Fond du Lac. "My boy has not wet the bed since your treatment. He eats and sleeps well, and everybody notices his rosy cheeks."

Minnie Borchard, Greenleaf. "I want to say that your treatment has entirely cured my boy. We all hope to see you here again before long; many are waiting to see you."

No Such Star.

The following item, which is misleading, has been going the rounds of the country press, and some people who have paid but little attention to astronomy, imagine that it is genuine: "The Star of Bethlehem may be seen by early risers now on any cloudless morning. Astronomers say that star is visible at the present time for the first time in 500 years and that it will not be coming this way again for the next 500 years and it is more than probable that most people now on earth will not be here then. The star is visible in the east every morning just at daybreak. It is very bright and can be easily distinguished."

There is no star of Bethlehem known to scientists, and the assertion that it makes its appearance once in 500 years is all a myth. We do not know whether any of our readers have been getting up early in the morning with the hope of seeing the star, but if they have, it is entirely probable that they were disappointed. It may be that those who originated the item have been looking at the planet Venus or Mars, both of which are at times quite bright. They do not make their appearance at 500 year intervals, however, and the assertion that astronomers say things about the star is not so. Astronomers say there is no such star.

May Write Small Checks.

There has been a great deal of talk of late, concerning the matter of, whether or not it is legal to issue checks for an amount less than one dollar. The educational paper, Current Events is the authority for the statement that the treasury department has ruled, that persons may continue to write checks for less than one dollar.

It has been shown that the statute quoted was passed in 1890 to prevent the circulation of certain small notes as money during the Civil War. In codifying the Federal statute this old law was included in the criminal code though in operation has become obsolete.

The working of the laws would lead one to think it applied to checks and drafts for sums less than one dollar, but a government department has announced that the law will not be so interpreted any more than it has been for the past forty-nine years.

A Policeman's Testimony.

J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Iowa, writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least half a dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world." John E. Daly and Johnson & Hill Co.

Now listen this baby not yet two years of age, had in its inside a tape worm sixty feet long. No wonder the doctors thought it had consumption.

Said He Was Paralyzed

In Fond du Lac, James Itable, aged 10 years was brought to me, said to have been paralysed for five years, having entirely lost control of the bowels and the bladder, and unable to attend school on account of his affliction. I suspected something else, and a few injections brought away a mass of ascarides, very tiny worms, very irritating to the nervous system and destructive to the blood, and now you ask me what was the result, well his so called paralysis was gone, he had perfect control of himself in a week, and the boy was cured. I had another case exactly like the above in Rhinelander last month.

Said He Had Cancer

Another remarkable case was that of Charles Russell of Ashland, a newspaper man, who had suffered from pain in his stomach for twenty years, and finally was told he had cancer and must be operated on at once, but fortunately he came to me first, and I relieved him of an enormous tape worm which was the whole cause of his trouble.

Still another case is that of a girl

Thought Had Appendicitis

Miss Lucina Moore of Palmyra, who frequently felt a large swelling near the appendix was brought to me while in that condition, because the mother had been told she must undergo an operation. I found that upon gentle pressure, the ball-like tumor in her side immediately disappeared, and knowing that some tape worms roll themselves into a mass, like a ball, I recognized what was the trouble, gave her one dose of medicine and in less than one hour she passed a large worm, head and all complete in one piece, and lo! her appendicitis was gone. But I could fill this newspaper with my own experiences of this kind, and have the documents in proof of every one in my office. Now what do these cases show, they show just this that a great many people are being treated, and even operated on for diseases they have not got and never had.

"Leland has not wet the bed since the first treatment, and thousands of worms came away. He sleeps well and eats like a thrasher."—Mrs. E. B. Lohren, Hartford.

"My son is perfectly well. He has no more pain in his stomach and no more headaches. Your treatment was indeed wonderful and I cannot express my thanks."—Mrs. John Lochner, Marxville.

"Our boy's daily and nightly troubles are gone, he has perfect control of himself now and has gained four pounds in two weeks."

Mrs. V. Roble, Fond du Lac. "My boy has not wet the bed since your treatment. He eats and sleeps well, and everybody notices his rosy cheeks."

Minnie Borchard, Greenleaf. "I want to say that your treatment has entirely cured my boy. We all hope to see you here again before long; many are waiting to see you."

Mrs. A. Bussard, Medford. REMEMBER THE DATE, WITTER HOUSE, DEC. 10, 11, 12.

Hexamethylenetetramine.

The above is the name of a German chemical, which is one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and antiseptic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy as soon as you notice any irregularities and avoid a serious malady. John E. Daly and Johnson & Hill Co.

Avoid Ashes with Manure.

Farmers need to be cautioned generally against the use of wood ashes and lime with manure. The ashes and lime produce an alkaline condition, resulting in the loss of ammonia which carries off the nitrogen. This point has not been sufficiently emphasized, and many well meaning farmers have used ashes and lime with manure to disadvantage. The lime and ashes, if needed by the soil, should be put on in other years than those in which farm manure is applied.

The greatest danger from influenza is of its resulting in pneumonia. This can be obviated by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as it not only cures influenza, but counteracts any tendency of the disease towards pneumonia. Sold by all dealers.

No Such Star.

The following item, which is misleading, has been going the rounds of the country press, and some people who have paid but little attention to astronomy imagine that it is genuine: "The Star of Bethlehem may be seen by early risers now on any cloudless morning. Astronomers say that star is visible at the present time for the first time in 500 years and that it will not be coming this way again for the next 500 years and way again for the next 500 years and it is more than probable that most people now on earth will not be here then. The star is visible in the east every morning just at daybreak. It is very bright and can be easily distinguished."

There is no star of Bethlehem known to scientists, and the assertion that it makes its appearance once in 500 years is all a myth. We do not know whether any of our readers have been getting up early in the morning with the hope of seeing the star, but if they have, it is entirely probable that they were disappointed. It may be that those who originated the item have been looking at the planet Venus or Mars, both of which are at times quite bright. They do not make their appearance at 500 year intervals, however, and the assertion that astronomers say things about the star is not so. Astronomers say there is no such star.

May Write Small Checks.

There has been a great deal of talk of late, concerning the matter of, whether or not it is legal to issue checks for an amount less than one dollar. The educational paper, Current Events is the authority for the statement that the treasury department has ruled, that persons may continue to write checks for less than one dollar.

It has been shown that the statute quoted was passed in 1861 to prevent the circulation of certain small notes as money during the Civil War. In codifying the Federal statute this old law was included in the criminal code though in operation has become obsolete.

The working of the laws would lead one to think it applied to checks and drafts for sums less than one dollar, but a government department has announced that the law will not be so interpreted any more than it has been for the past forty-nine years.

A Policeman's Testimony.

J. N. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Iowa, writes: "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried at least half a dozen advertised cough medicines without getting any benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two-thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest cough and lung medicine in the world." John E. Daly and Johnson & Hill Co.

REMEMBER

THE FAIR STORE,

MacKinnon Block, West End of Wagon Bridge

The shades of night were falling fast as Paul Revere went dashing past. "T. Roosevelt is dead!" he roared. But everybody laughed aloud. And as he pushed upon the reins, they cried, "Go tell it to the Damed!"

Whereat the herald winked his eye, And said, "I'll have to change the cry. Prosperity's returned!" he howled. The next town side he overhauled; But this town, too, for all his pains, Just smiled and said, "Go tell the Damed!"

"Cook has confessed!" was his halloo. The next township he galloped through; But these were also knowing swains, And yelled, "Go tell it to the Damed!"

At which rebuff he frowned a frown And said: "I'll try just one more town."

And, on the solemn truth resolved, He cried, "Standard Oil has been dissolved!"

But this town said, and shook its noggin "Keep right on, Paul, to Copenhagen!"

December was anciently the tenth month, and its name is from the Latin decem (ten). It has always been the last month in every calendar. Like ourselves, the ancients were not quite sure whether they could afford it or not, and it was therefore always placed where it could be dropped with the least disturbance of the calendar year. Alexander the Great always attacked his enemies immediately after Christmas, when they didn't have a cent, and Julius Caesar, who could see farther than Jim Hill, repeatedly warned Rome against the Goths and Vandals, who, like the trusts, gave each other no Christmas presents.

The east for the annual Christmas carolers will be as follows: Santa Claus, Mr. Duff, Sted, Mr. Carnegie, Reindeer, Mr. Kuhn, Mr. Lamb, Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Payne. Bells, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Sings. Whip, Mr. Dawson. Snow, Chancellors Day, Moon, Mr. Archibald. Roof, Mr. Ryan. Chimney, Mr. Hill. Pack, Mr. Sherman. Tree, Mr. Rockefeller. Sleeping child, Mr. Morgan. The performance will begin on the night of the 24th. Mr. Morgan is said to be in the awakening scene the most delightful child in the history of the play.

The natural phenomena of the month will be encouraging. On the 12th there will be a partial eclipse of the sun, visible in the region around the South Pole. During the eclipse 16 ounces of sugar will weigh a pound at the New York custom house and gas meters will run backward. On the 21st the Coal Trust will kick the sun across the Tropic of Capricorn for a field goal, and the winter solstice will begin with the ball in the possession of the trusts on our five yard line. This will be the shortest day of the year, and Mr. Peary will be the favorite in the North Pole dispute.

The dawn of winter will disclose John Rockefeller with his toes Wigwagging with an upward thrust, And pious of the Sugar Trust. Discontinued here and there, While Uncle Samuel with his hair Awry in angry little puffs Is looking for his coat and cuffs.

The breath of Borons will blow, and lo, the soft and flakey snow will lay its mantle on the hill and look for cubby holes to fill. The furry coat will feel the fine on-coming of Winter down his spine, the which will make him back and squeal and snap the cracker on his heel. The chilly dog will sniff the air and don his suit of heavy hair and in his igloo made of snow the blubber eating Eskimo will twinge with rheumatiz and gout and wonder how the light came out. The lusty calf will bawl and bawl and burrow in the stack of straw, and Winter, with its biting wind, will urge him inward from behind. The rabbit hunter, red of face, will prosecute the thrilling chase, and the flying rabbit, frightened daft, will run like Roosevelt were up.

The cost of living, plump and stout, Will dare the Christmas shopper out, And chase him headlong through the door.

And here and there around the store; And every time he shall espy A present he would like to buy The swift pursuer, fell and grim, Will knock his pins from under him And slap him smartly on the gills With seven pounds of household bills.

At which the humor of the play burst and all the bells rang out and sweet will weep in concert, and the boys will make a dash for it, and the little soldier in his cap will wave his trusty bayonet and stand the tyrant in the back.

We must have Christmas in these parts, no matter what it is that means or what the blooming tariff is, or any man desires for us. We've got to fill those empty socks no matter if the planet rocks, or if the planets in we ride go round but fast for a while. We don't mind being made the goat and wearing our old overcoat year in and out, and being cold, and suffering ashes for the rest, but when the holidays advance and Larry Morgan bangs his pants upon the mantle with the cuts to help with strings and other stuff, and tell the rest of us to git, by thunder, we won't stand for it.

There will also be something doing in social and political phenomena. Congress will assemble at Washington on the 5th, and an emergency session of the Standard Oil legal staff will begin at Cleveland on the 5th. Mr. Taft's ultimate conclusions as to gold and other great issues will be read on the 6th, and Mr. Rockefeller's annual message will be made public on the 24th. The insurgents will lay down a cross the Potomac from the Capitol, with Mr. La Follette in command, Mr. Cushman as scout and Mr. Beveridge as lookout.

On the 21st we shall preside under the influence of the redoubt sign of Capricornus the goat. This will cause Mr. Taft, who is going for Rep. Van Winkle's record to turn over, and the consumer will be the goat. And then the new year will arrive. To swell the song of years, And the man from Elber will return To set us by the ears.

Ganderbone's Forecast for December.

The shades of night were falling fast as Paul Revere went dashing past. "T. Roosevelt is dead!" he vowed. But everybody laughed aloud. And as he pushed upon the reins. They cried, "Go tell it to the Dunes!" Whereat the herald winked his eye. And said, "I'll have to change the cry. Property's returned!" he bawled. The next town site he overhauled; But this town, too, for all his pains. Just smiled and said, "Go tell the Dunes!"

Wherefore Revere, still raising welts Upon his mount, planned something else. "Cook has confessed!" was his halloo. The next township he galloped through; But these were also knowing swains, And yelled, "Go tell it to the Dunes!" At which rebuff he frowned a frown And said: "I'll try just one more town."

And, on the solemn truth resolved, Cried, "Standard Oil has been dissolved!" But this town said, and shook its noggin "Keep right on, Paul, to Copon-lagoon."

December was anciently the tenth month, and its name is from the Latin decem (ten). It has always been the last month in every calendar. Like ourselves, the ancients were not quite sure whether they could afford it or not, and it was therefore always placed where it could be dropped with the least disturbance of the calendar year. Alexander the Great always attacked his enemies immediately after Christmas, when they didn't have a cent, and Julius Caesar, who could see farther than Jim Hill, repeatedly warned Rome against the Goths and Vandals, who, like the trusts, gave each other no Christmas presents.

The cast for the annual Christmas cantata will be as follows: Santa Claus, Mr. Taft. Sled, Mr. Carnegie. Reindeer, Mr. Kuhn. Mr. Leeb, Mr. Aldrich and Mr. Payne. Bells, Mrs. Green and Mrs. Sane. Whip, Mr. Lawson. Snow, Chaucer. Day, Moon, Mr. Archbold. Roof, Mr. Ryan. Chimney, Mr. Hill. Pack, Mr. Sherman. Tree, Mr. Rockefeller. Sleeping child, Mr. Morzan. The performance will begin on the night of the 24th. Mr. Morzan is said to be in the awakening scene the most delightful child in the history of the play.

The natural phenomena of the month will be encouraging. On the 12th there will be a partial eclipse of the sun, visible in the region around the South Pole. During the eclipse 10 ounces of sugar will weigh a pound at the New York custom house and gas meters will run backward. On the 21st the Coal Trust will kick the sun across the Tropic of Capricorn for a field goal, and the winter solstice will begin with the ball in the possession of the trusts on our five yard line. This will be the shortest day of the year, and Mr. Peary will be the favorite in the North Pole dispute.

The dawn of winter will disclose John Rockefeller with his toes Wigwagging with an upward thrust. And pieces of the Sugar Trust Disseminated here and there, While Uncle Samuel with his hair Awry in angry little puffs Is looking for his coat and cuffs.

The breath of Boreas will blow, and lo, the soft and flakey snow will lay its mantle on the hill and look for cubby holes to fill. The furry coat will feel the fine on-come of Winter down his spine, the which will make him buck and squeal and snap the cracker on his keel. The chilly dog will sniff the air and don his suit of heavy hair and in his igloo made of snow the blubber eating Eskimo will twinge with rheumatiz and gout and wonder how the fight came out. The lusty calf will bawl and bawl and burrow in the stack of straw, and Winter, with its biting wind, will urge him inward from behind. The rabbit hunter, red of face, will prosecute the thrilling chase, and the flying rabbit, frightened daft, will run like Roosevelt through the door.

And here and there around the store; And every time he shall say A present he would like to buy The swift pursuer, fell and grim, Will knock his pins from under him And slap him smartly on the gills With seven pounds of household bills.

THE FLIGHT TO CANADA.

Last year 60,000 persons possessed of 50,000,000 American colored dollars or the equivalent crossed over to the new land of plenty, and this year the official figure will show that 70,000 persons and 70,000,000 have followed. Ten years ago the numbers were too slight to excite comment. Ten years hence the loss of desirable Americans doubtless will outnumber the gain of foreigners, with a corresponding loss of dollars in proportion to which the gain through immigration will be negligible. While it is not likely that the exodus of farmers will continue to increase at its present rate, that there will be a steady stream pouring over the line for many years in the belief of those qualified to speak. Canadian statisticians figure that by the end of the century the population will have increased to 50,000,000, with ample room for as many more. That the lack of confidence of the movement has not dawned on the people of this country is evident from the fact that press and public are still biding good-bye to the departing thousands of good citizens, and without giving a thought as to the disappearing millions of good money. When they come to see things in another light there is apt to be great agitation of mind, say Washington Post. But what can we do about it? Against the lurch of impetuous foreigners it is possible to erect barriers, but against the outpour of well-to-do farmers what obstacle can be interposed? What alternative can be urged?

The announcement that the Russian government is arranging for a loan of $125,000,000 from British capitalists is significant of changed conditions in European politics. The alliance between France and Russia long gave preference to French money lenders whenever the St. Petersburg government required funds. The bulk of the money needed for the war with Japan was raised in Paris, and the reluctance of the French financiers to continue their loans, in view of the Russian disasters on sea and land, was a very powerful factor in moving Russia to accept the proffered mediation of this country. But the dual alliance is no longer a supremely important factor in Russian politics or in Russian finance. An understanding has been reached with England which, while not constituting an offensive and defensive alliance, has done much to allay suspicion and to promote good will.

The new regime in Turkey promises to be more than sentimental interest in the United States. The development of the country offers opportunities for successful American enterprise. Modern methods of agriculture, with the use of machinery, will render profitable great tracts of land. Much mineral wealth also awaits development. Inland towns need railways and wagon roads. Constantinople, a city of nearly a million inhabitants, has no electric lights or railways and no telephone. It has inadequate waterworks and only a poor ice plant. Capital is invited to make investments, and provisions are made of large concessions and franchises.

No king ever showed a more consistent spirit than King George is displaying in the face of the present troubles in Greece. He exhibited this spirit anew in the manner in which he compelled his sons to resign from the army. At his instance the chamber of deputies passed the bills abolishing the right of the crown prince to serve as commander-in-chief, and that of the other princes to hold commissions. By his own act, therefore, the military party which brought on the revolution of last August is deprived of its last ground for complaint against the dynasty.

The exhibition of American manufacturers, to be held in Berlin, Germany, next year, should be a success, both because of the purpose aimed at and on account of the omniscience and ability of the American business men who are in the management. American manufacturers are beginning to appreciate the opportunities open in foreign lands, and an exhibition like that proposed for Berlin is certain to be invaluable in making people abroad familiar with American products. It is coming to the point where "Made in America" is a guarantee of excellence.

Out in the state of Washington a nine-year-old boy has killed a big deer. It is a pleasure to be able to say that he did not in his efforts to bring down the buck mistake anybody for a rabbit or a wild turkey.

The Turkish government has offered great encouragement to the Zionist movement by inviting Jews of all countries to colonize the lands along the Bagdad railway. This is quite a change from the policy of the old regime.

Sir Thomas Lipton wants another race. It is a pity that so persistent and graceful a loser could not win now and then, just to keep the proper spirit in the sport. But the American yachts have got so in the habit of winning that it is hard to break themselves of it.

The situation in Nicaragua is reported as "very grave," from which we infer that a good undertaker could establish a paying business there right now.

Japan's policy in Korea has been an enlightened one and distinctively constructive; the assassination of Prince Ito, the resident general, by a misguided native is to be viewed as another of the sacrifices which progress and civilization inevitably are called upon to make in the attempt to bring darkness into light.

If there were a British supreme court to knock in the head a progressive budget the house of lords might not be so unwilling to pass one.

DE ARMOND BURNED

LAWMAKER MEETS SWIFT END

Kewanee, Mo.—Congressman David A. De Armond of the Sixth Missouri district, in a heroic effort to save the life of his little grandson, was burned to death in a fire that destroyed his residence at Butler, Mo.

The heroism of the congressman was made known when, with his arm locked about the blackened and burned body of the little boy, the congressman's body was found. He had caught up the six-year-old lad, David A. De Armond, Jr., and rushed with him through the burning flames that filled his room. He fell with his unconscious body and both sank through the floor to quick death.

What makes the tragedy unusually pathetic is the fact that the grandson was the grandfather's idol. The two were inseparable and often slept together. The boy went to his grandfather's house as usual, and after a happy evening the two retired.

The next day the family of them when, from behind the smoke and flames, the fire developed the house, the boy screamed:

"Oh, grandpa, get me out of here, quick! I'm burning to death."

"Yes, son, don't be afraid. Grandpa'll take you out," was the calm reply.

Then both went down to their death. The remainder of the family sleeping in the house at the time of the fire—Mrs. De Armond and her daughter, Mrs. Clark, and Miss Nettie Holm—were greatly shaken by their experience.

James A. De Armond, editor of the Kewanee County Democrat, son of the congressman and father of the boy who was burned, tried to rush into the burning house to save his father and son, but was prevented by others, who knew his mother would be in vain.

ORDERS OIL TRUST DISSOLVED

FEDERAL COURT SUSTAINS GOVERNMENT IN BIG SUIT.

Standard Is Declared Illegal Corporation in Important Decision—Defendant Will Appeal.

St. Paul.—The government won a sweeping victory over the Standard Oil corporation Saturday. In an opinion written by Judge Walter H. Sutherland of St. Paul and concurred in by Judges Vandeventer, Hook and Adams, with a special concurring opinion by Judge Hook, the United States circuit court for the eastern district of Missouri handed down an opinion declaring the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey an illegal combination, operating in restraint of trade, and ordered its dissolution.

The opinion of the court and the order of dissolution were filed simultaneously in St. Paul and St. Louis. The decree takes effect 30 days from the date of its filing, unless suspended by an appeal to the supreme court. At that time an injunction will be issued restraining the Standard Oil Company from a further continuance of its business under its present formation.

Thirty-three of the seventy-odd concerns in the Standard Oil combination are named in the order of dissolution and the bill is dismissed as against them.

It appears from the concurring opinion written by Judge Hook that the company cannot do business under any form with the object of stifling competition, for he says that with the end of the combination the monopoly will naturally disappear, but should it not do so, and the members of the combination refuse to discontinue their efforts to avoid opposition from the powerful syndicate operating Atlantic liners. They now hold that the opposition of these interests will no longer be able to influence congressmen in the face of a sentiment that has become sweeping.

STAB PEACEMAKER TO DEATH

Chicago.—Andrew Hall, 27 years old, 1810 South Wood street, lies dead because he attempted Sunday to be a peacemaker and defended an aged man from attack by a younger man. In his efforts to save the old man from a beating he was himself stabbed through the heart by Charles Bonfield, 28 years old, who was arrested.

While he was being rushed to the patrol wagon, he narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of an angry mob of fishermen.

The scene of the tragedy was on the lake pier at the foot of Sixteenth street, in the midst of a long line of fishermen. Bonfield had arrived early, and was getting his lines ready, when he called upon George Krapp, who lives in a hut near the pier to prepare an errand for him. Krapp is an old man and was not yet dressed.

Bonfield was in a hurry and because Krapp was slow in getting on his clothes he kicked him in the back. Hearing the aged man's cries a crowd of fishermen gathered around in protest. Hall, however, was one of the first to offer active interference.

After ordering Bonfield to desist he attempted to step between Bonfield and Krapp. As he did so Bonfield drew a long hunting knife and, without warning, plunged it into the peacemaker's heart.

SHIP BILL CERTAIN

CONGRESS WILL PASS SUBSIDY MEASURE WITHOUT MUCH OPPOSITION.

FOES NO LONGER FEARED

Washington.—The ship subsidy bill will be passed at the coming session of congress and without much opposition.

The measure, say its friends, has passed the house in one form or another several times during the past few decades, but has been blocked in the senate as many times. This time there will be little opposition in the upper house, and the lower branch taking advantage of the situation probably will increase the sum to be granted to all American ships engaged in commerce between home and foreign ports.

The measure as it now stands, and as it will be presented to the house, provide subsidies only to South American and Asiatic ports, and these are so meager that their effect in building up an American merchant marine representative of the richest nation in the world would not be very great. These bounties, it is understood, will be increased to some extent and there will be a provision for extending the bounties to vessels plying to European ports.

Friends of the measure assert that this provision has heretofore been left out to avoid opposition from the powerful syndicate operating Atlantic liners. They now hold that the opposition of these interests will no longer be able to influence congressmen in the face of a sentiment that has become sweeping.

YELAYA MUST PAY $100,000

Secretary Knox Will Demand Cash and Apology.

Will Adopt Extreme Measures to Obtain Satisfaction for Execution of Two Americans.

Washington.—The execution of the two American citizens, LeRoy Cannon and Leonard Grace, by orders of President Zelaya, will cause the United States to adopt drastic measures to obtain reparation from the Nicaraguan government.

President Taft on his return to Washington Sunday approved Secretary Knox's recommendation that President Zelaya of the central American republic be called upon to give immediate satisfaction for the outrage.

The demand will be couched in stern language, and will require a formal apology, a salute to the American flag, and perhaps the payment with delay of an indemnity for the benefit of the heirs of the deceased.

Failure to make instant compliance will cause the government to consider the observance of one of the three following plans:

1. Recognition of the belligerency of the insurgents, now operating in and controlling the eastern half of Nicaragua.

2. Seizure of the custom house at Corinto, the single port of Nicaragua, which is held by the government.

3. Declaration of war.

It is possible the first two measures may be taken simultaneously.

An official dispatch received from the American vice-consul at Managua Saturday announced that President Zelaya admitted he had directed the shooting of Cannon and Grace after a court-martial, and that he did so over the protest of the commander-in-chief of the Nicaraguan army and the minister general of the republic.

BALLINGER REPORTS

STILL AFTER LAND THIEVES

Urges Continuation of Vigorous Prosecution and a Reclamation of the Public Domain—Issuance of Reclamation Fund Bonds Advised—The Indian Bureau.

Washington, Nov. 29.—The annual report to the president of Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior, was made public today and makes interesting reading. The report covers administration of lands of the United States and a reclamation of the public domain—issuance of Reclamation Fund Bonds Advised—The Indian Bureau.

Secretary Ballinger's comments on the old public land statutes, and on the liberal and rapid disposition of the public lands under these statutes and the lax methods of administration which for a long time prevailed naturally provoked the feeling that the public domain was legitimate prey for the unscrupulous and that it was no crime to violate or circumvent the land laws. It is to be regretted that, as a nation, we are tardily reacting to the importance of preventing so large a measure of our natural resources passing into the hands of land speculators and speculators, with no view to development looking to the national welfare.

Must Continue Prosecutions.

"It may be safely said that millions of acres of timber and other lands have been unlawfully obtained, and it is also true that actions to recover such lands have in most instances long since been barred by the statute of limitations. The principal awakening to our western course came under your predecessor's administration. The bold and vigorous prosecutions of land frauds through Secretaries Hoke and Garfield, have restored a salutary respect for the laws and the public mind has rapidly grasped the importance of safeguarding the further disposition of our national resources in the public land in the interest of the public good as against private greed. Notwithstanding this, it is necessary to continue with utmost vigor, through all available sources, the securing of information of violations of the public land laws and to follow such violations with rigid prosecution.

Use Private Enterprise.

"In this present policy of conserving the natural resources of the public domain, with development in the key-note, the best thought of the day is not that development shall be by national agencies, but that wise utilization shall be secured through private enterprise under national supervision and control. Therefore, if material progress is to be made in securing the best use of our remaining public lands, congress must be called upon to enact remedial legislation."

The Reclamation Service.

Concerning the reclamation service, the report says in part:

"In view of the importance of a speedy completion of existing projects and their proper extension, and of the necessity in 1912 of an adjustment between the status by which the major portion of the funds arising from the sale of public lands within each state and territory shall have been expended so far as practicable within such state or territory, and in view of the importance of making a beneficial use of waters already appropriated or capable of appropriation to which rights may be lost for nonuse, I believe an urgent appeal should be made to congress to authorize the issuance of certificates of indebtedness, or of bonds against the reclamation fund, to an aggregate of not exceeding $30,000,000, or so much thereof as may be needed."

Couldn't Uncouple.

A well-known Scottish clergyman got into conversation in a railroad car with a working man, who informed him that he had been a couple for over 29 years. "Oh," said the minister, "I can beat that! I have been a couple for over 30 years."

Results Becoming Manifest.

Last year 60,000 persons possessed of 60,000,000 American dollars or the equivalent crossed over to the new land of plenty, and this year the official figure will show that 70,000 persons and $70,000,000 have followed. Ten years ago the numbers were too slight to excite comment. Ten years hence the loss of desirable Americans doubtless will outnumber the gain of foreigners, with a corresponding loss of dollars in proportion to which the gain through immigration will be beggary. While it is not likely that the exodus of farmers will continue to increase at its present rate, that there will be a steady stream pouring over the line for many years is the belief of those qualified to speak. Canadian statisticians figure that by the end of the century the population will have increased to 50,000,000, with ample room for as many more. That the full significance of the movement has not dawned on the people of this country is evident from the fact that press and public are still bidding good-bye to the departing thousands of good citizens, and without giving a thought as to the disappearing millions of good money. When they come to see things in another light there is apt to be great agitation of mind, says Washington Post. But what can we do about it? Against the lurch of impetuous foreigners it is possible to erect barriers, but against the outrush of well-to-do farmers what obstacle can be interposed? What alternative can be urged?

The announcement that the Russian government is arranging for a loan of $125,000,000 from British capitalists is significant of changed conditions in European politics. The alliance between France and Russia long gave preference to French money lenders whenever the St. Petersburg government required funds. The bulk of the money needed for the war with Japan was raised in Paris, and the reluctance of the French financiers to continue their loans, in view of the Russian disasters on sea and land, was a very powerful factor in moving Russia to accept the proffered mediation of this country. But the dual alliance is no longer a supremely important factor in Russian politics or in Russian finance. An understanding has been reached with England which, while not constituting an offensive and defensive alliance, has done much to allay suspicion and to promote good will.

The new regime in Turkey promises to be of more than sentimental interest in the United States. The development of the country offers opportunities for successful American enterprise. Modern methods of agriculture, with the use of machinery, will render profitable arid tracts of land. Much mineral wealth also awaits development. Inland towns need railways and wagon roads. Constantinople, a city of nearly a million inhabitants, has no electric lights or railways and no telephone. It has inadequate waterworks and only a poor ice plant. Capital is invited to make investments, and promises are made of large concessions and franchises.

No king ever showed a more conciliatory spirit than King George is displaying in the face of the present troubles in Greece. He exhibited this spirit anew in the manner in which he compelled his sons to resign from the army. At his instance the chamber of deputies passed the bills authorizing the right of the crown prince to serve as commander-in-chief, and that of the other princes to hold commissions. By his own act, therefore, the military party which brought on the revolution of last August is deprived of its last ground for complaint against the dynasty.

The exhibition of American manufacturers, to be held in Berlin, Germany, next year, should be a success, both because of the purpose aimed at and on account of the eminence and ability of the American business men who are in the management. American manufacturers are beginning to appreciate the opportunities open in foreign lands, and an exhibition like that proposed for Berlin is certain to be invaluable in making people abroad familiar with American products. It is coming to the point where "Made in America" is a guarantee of excellence.

Out in the state of Washington a nine-year-old boy has killed a big deer. It is a pleasure to be able to say that he did not in his efforts to bring down the buck mistake anybody for a rabbit or a wild turkey.

The Turkish government has offered great encouragement to the Zionist movement by inviting Jews of all countries to colonize the lands along the Bagdad railway. This is quite a change from the policy of the old regime.

Sir Thomas Lipton wants another race. It is a pity that so persistent and graceful a loser could not win now and then, just to keep the proper spirit in the sport. But the American yachts have got so in the habit of winning that it is hard to break themselves of it.

The situation in Nicaragua is reported as "very grave," from which we infer that a good undertaker could establish a paying business there right now.

Japan's policy in Korea has been an enlightened one and distinctly constructive; the assassination of Prince Ito, the resident general, by a misguided native is to be viewed as another of the sacrifices which progress and civilization inevitably are called upon to make in the attempt to bring darkness into light.

If there were a British supreme court to knock in the head a progressive budget, the house of lords might not be so unwilling to pass one.

DE ARMOND BURNED

LAWMAKER MEETS SWIFT END

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Congressman David A. De Armond of the Sixth Missouri district, in a heroic effort to save the life of his little grandson, was burned to death in a fire that destroyed his residence at Butler, Mo. The heroism of the congressman was made known when, with his arms locked about the blackened and burned body of the little boy, the congressman's body was found. He had caught up the six-year-old lad, David De Armond, Jr., and rushed with him through the leaping flames that filled his room. He fell with his unconscious body and both sank through the floor to quick death.

What makes the tragedy unusually pathetic is the fact that the grandson was the grandfather's idol. The two were inseparable and often slept together. The boy went to his grandfather's house as usual, and after a happy evening, the congressman, who was when the family heard of them was coming, from behind the smoke and flames that enveloped the house, the boy screamed:

"Oh, grandpa, get me out of here, quick! I'm burning to death! Here, yes, son, don't be afraid. Grandpa'll take you out," was the calm reply.

Then both went down to their death. The remainder of the family sleeping in the house at the time of the fire—Mrs. De Armond and her daughter, Mrs. Clark, and Miss Nettie Jones—were greatly shaken by their experience.

Messages of condolence from all parts of the country were received by the De Armonds, among them one from President Taft.

James A. De Armond, editor of the States County Democrat, son of the congressman and brother of the boy who was burned, tried to rush into the burning house to save his father and son, but was prevented by others, who knew his sacrifice would be in vain.

FEDERAL COURT SUSTAINS GOVERNMENT IN BIG SUIT.

Standard Is Declared Illegal Corporation in Important Decision—Defendant Will Appeal.

ST. PAUL.—The government won a sweeping victory over the Standard Oil corporation Saturday. In an opinion written by Judge Walter H. Sanborn of St. Paul and concurred in by Judges Vandeventer, Hook and Adams, with a special concurring opinion by Judge Hook, the United States circuit court for the eastern district of Missouri handed down its opinion declaring the Standard Oil Company, operating in restraint of trade, and ordered its dissolution.

The opinion of the court and the order of dissolution were filed simultaneously in St. Paul and St. Louis. The decree takes effect 30 days from the date of its filing, unless suspended by an appeal to the supreme court. At that time an injunction will be issued restraining the Standard Oil Company from a further continuance of its business under its present form.

Thirty-three of the seventy-odd concerns in the Standard corporation are exempted from the order of dissolution and the bill is dismissed as against them.

It appears from the concurring opinion written by Judge Hook that the company was a business under an agreement with the object of stifling competition, for he says that with the end of the combination the monopoly will naturally disappear, but should it not do so, and the members of the combination perpetrate the monopoly by the segregation of the physical properties and instrumentalities, it would constitute a violation of the decree of the court.

The Standard Oil Company presented a formidable array of legal talent led by J. C. Milburn of New York. The defense was that the present organization of the Standard Oil corporation was the result of the natural growth of a great industry and that no statute had been violated.

STAB PEACEMAKER TO DEATH

CHICAGO.—Andrew Hall, 27 years old, 1810 South Wood street, lies dead because he attempted Sunday to be a peacemaker and defended an old man from attack by a mob. The old man, who was killed, was named Benfield, 28 years old, who was arrested.

While he was being rushed to the patrol wagon, he narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of an angry mob of negroes. The tragedy was on the lake pier at the foot of Sixteenth street, in the midst of a long line of fishermen. Benfield had arrived early, and was getting his lines ready, when he called upon George Krapp, who lives in a hut near the pier, to get a fishing net for him. Krapp is an old man and was not yet dressed. Benfield was in a hurry and because Krapp was slow in getting on his shoes he kicked him in the back. Hearing the aged man's cries a crowd of fishermen gathered around in protest. Hall, however, was one of the first to offer active interference.

After ordering Benfield to desist he attempted to step between Benfield and Krapp. As he did so Benfield drew a long hunting knife and, without warning, witnesses saw, plunged it into the peacemaker's heart.

SHIP BILL CERTAIN

CONGRESS WILL PASS SUBSIDY MEASURE WITHOUT MUCH OPPOSITION.

WASHINGTON.—The ship subsidy bill will be passed at the coming session of congress and without much opposition. The measure, say its friends, has passed the house in one form or another several times during the past few decades, but has been blocked in the senate as many times. This time there will be little opposition in the upper house, and the lower branch taking advantage of the situation probably will increase the sums to be granted to all American ships engaged in commerce between home and foreign ports.

The measure as it now stands, and as it will be presented to the house, provides subsidies only to Scotch American and Asiatic ports, and these are so meager that their effect in building up an American merchant marine representative of the richest nation in the world would not be very great. These bounties, it is understood, will be increased to some extent and there will be a provision for extending the subsidies to vessels plying to and from European ports.

Friends of the measure assert that this provision has heretofore been left out to avoid opposition from the powerful syndicate operating Atlantic liners. They now hold that the opposition of these interests will no longer be able to influence congressmen in the face of a sentiment that has become sweeping.

REPORT OF DEATHS COMING

State Department Is Advised Record Concerning Americans Shot by Zelaya Will Arrive Soon.

WASHINGTON.—The gunboat Princeton was ordered by the navy department Friday to sail for Corinto, Nicaragua, to join the gunboat Vicksburg, already at that port. The Princeton is now at the Bremerton navy yard, Washington, undergoing repairs.

The United States government is anxious to know whether the time is ripe for the recognition of the provisional or revolutionary government in Nicaragua. Unofficially it is said that the advance of the insurgent forces has been so rapid that the crisis cannot be far off. Prompt action by the United States in formally recognizing the Estrada government would mean the success of the battle to oust Zelaya. Delay might prove serious if the struggle between Zelaya's army and the insurgents should be prolonged.

A full in the proceedings against President Zelaya was caused by the reception of an official notification from the Nicaraguan chargé d'affaires that the full record of the trial of the court-martial would arrive on the next steamer.

Before the message was received Secretary Knox had had an interview with John Barrett, director of the bureau of American republics, and it is understood that in view of the remarkable successes of the revolutionary forces it was decided to wait until Monday to see if Estrada would be successful in occupying Managua, in which case the recognition of the revolutionists would follow as a matter of course and all need for American intervention would cease.

ZELAYA MUST PAY $100,000

SECURITY KNOX WILL DEMAND CASH AND APOLOGY.

Will Adopt Extreme Measures to Obtain Satisfaction for Execution of Two Americans.

WASHINGTON.—The execution of the two American citizens, LeRoy Cannon and Leonard Groce, by orders of President Zelaya, will cause the United States to adopt drastic measures to obtain satisfaction from the Nicaraguan government.

President Taft on his return to Washington Sunday approved Secretary Knox's recommendation that President Zelaya of the central American republic be called upon to give immediate satisfaction for the outrage.

Secretary Knox will demand that $100,000 indemnity be paid the families of the victims.

The demand will be couched in stern language, and will require a formal apology, a salute to the American flag, and perhaps the payment with a 60-mile gale of wind and snow, while the steamer Puritan, a staunch boat of steel, rudderless and to more or less extent at the mercy of the seas, lies off New Buffalo, some 18 miles south of here. Tugs from South Chicago are fighting their way across the lake to succeed in pulling the craft off the beach.

Failure to make instant compliance will cause the government to consider the observance of one of the three following plans:

1. Recognition of the belligerency of the insurgents, now operating in and controlling the eastern half of Nicaragua.

2. Seizure of the custom house at Corinto, the single port of Nicaragua, which is held by the government.

3. Declaration of war.

It is possible the first two measures may be taken simultaneously.

An official dispatch received from the American vice-consul at Managua Saturday announced that President Zelaya admitted he had directed the shooting of Cannon and Groce after a court-martial, and that he did so over the protest of the commander-in-chief of the Nicaraguan army and the minister general of the republic.

corps. The signal corps has had for more than a year a pasta balloon squad or balloon detachment made up of enlisted men of the signal corps, who devote their entire time to aeronautical work, but the new organization is separate and quite apart from this. Indeed, it is generally considered to represent a higher development of military specialization, in the same proportion that the aeroplane marks an advance over the balloon as an instrument for use in warfare.

Army officers are already congratulating that the new aeroplane squad was the outcome of the army's experiments in the branch of aeronautics. The outcome of the studies of American engineers, wherein there were innumerable disadvantages, was this the case during the war, when the war department sought war balloons in the hands of men who were not specially trained in the newly-organized aeroplane squad. The aeroplane squad grew up in our military aviation. What is more, these countries have acquired experience of kind in establishing Uncle Sam's forces. It is not meant, of course, that the soldiers in clearing the field must be the aeroplane squad. The aeroplane squad is the one that they did almost everything else could do in order, not forgetting the transport aeroplane No. 1, by wagon from its port at Fort Myer, Va., a dozen miles away, gained into the box of such things as valuable as the aeroplane squad. Doubtless the country to lay out aviation needed by the army.

The order formally creating the signal corps was issued on the day the new organization was launched. It was the work of a sole individual, Sergeant Edwin S. Pratt, who since graduated to the position of chief of the staff. The Grand Army of the Air was an organization with merely with the old make which had been purchased by the army during the Spanish war and had been used since. Then came army dirigible M. The department purchased from the navy, finally the initial dirigible, the Wright, which was the outset the head of the nautical division were at Fort Myer. The commissioned officers and enlisted men of the signal division displayed their versatility in the use of balloons, and they were discerningly spherical balloons, of course.

When the signal corps completed its organization for generating hydrogen gas for balloons, it was ordered to maintain a post in the western post the signal corps. The balloon work and the dirigible work. When it went the balloons were used in the Wright aeroplane was used in the same manner and preparations were under way to establish a government school for aeroplane instruction. As has been said, the signal corps was organized to organize an army, some of the signal corps were transferred from the balloons and some were selected from the ranks of the army.
